1.	521864-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	14.057,00	Center for Socio-Economic Development Mr Vladan Janković	Small Academy for Youth Career Guider	Venue: Paraćin, town in central Serbia Duration: 4th-10th May, 2012 (7 days) Role of the applicant: hosting role The project involves preparation and delivery of a training course for 24 participants (of whom minimum 16 young people + experienced youth workers and career guiders) from 8 NGOs from Serbia, Albania, FYR Macedonia, Germany, Italy, Greece and Romania. During the training, participants will be motivated, educated and encouraged, through joint work, to promote and provide career guidance and counselling (CGC) in their communities. Young participants will become the so called peer career guiders, while experienced career guiders will advance the existing methods and develop new methods for working with youth. The general training topic is reducing youth unemployment. The specific training topic is CGC as the most important educational process in career making – enabling youth to choose a profession, i.e. vocational/high school and/or university. Special attention will be paid to CGC for youth with disabilities. The course will focus, in the context of the key theme and within specific segments, on the following topics: common European values, cultural diversity, education, migrations and mobility of youth, youth with fewer opportunities. Trainings will be based on methods and techniques of informal learning – workshops, role-playing, discussion, e-learning, work visits, energizers... – which encourage creativity and active participation. Training course will consist of several activity sets: Small Career Academy, team building activities, relaxation and motivation for learning, visit to the City of Niš, cultural activities, creation of posters, NGO fair. Planned activities will encourage capacity-building and innovation among promoters, as well as exchange of experience, expertise and good practice. In addition, the project will motivate participating NGOs to build partnerships and jointly create quality projects for youth.
2.	522058-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	16.293,00	Centre for Non-formal education and Lifelong learning Ms. Danijela Juric	Support and supervise volunteers for inclusion	"Support and supervise volunteers for inclusion" is 7-days long training course that will be held from 12-20 June 2012 in Novi Sad, Serbia. The training course will gather 25 participants from 7 countries (Serbia, Croatia, Turkey, Slovenia, Kosovo, FYR Macedonia and Italy). The main themes of the training course are leading, supervision and mentoring youth workers and volunteers within activities with marginalised groups, and thus more effectively improve proactive inclusion among youth (mainstream and marginalised) and work on combating the social exclusion, for anti-discrimination and for solidarity in society. Objectives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Motivate participants to and empower them for active promotion of combating social exclusion in their projects - Empower them in effective leadership, management and supervision of the volunteers working with marginalised groups - Exchange practices from different countries on insights and perceptions about youth work with marginalised groups - To develop more projects within YiA that is raising young people's awareness of everyone's responsibility in tackling marginalisation and promoting inclusion of groups with fewer opportunities. Project's activities are: preparation activities (including the participants, venue and travel, etc.), the training course with active participation of participants and the evaluation of the participants and the partners, with meeting on the spot of the team and online evaluation meeting of all the partners. Training course will be organised on concepts, principles and methodology of non-formal education, where the programme and methods will be adapted upon the profile of participants. In order that each individual gets the most out of our sessions, the methods used will be to make sure that the educational experience is geared towards participants' particular style of learning. CNELL, applicant organisation is also hosting this activity, besides sending participants from Serbia to the course.
3.	522030-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	15.231,00	Young Europeans of Serbia Mr Vuk Vujic	Active youth for active future	Project "Raise your voice, move the other!" is training course on campaigning for active youth and social inclusion in local community, especially in small rural areas in European countries where youth is not involved in local activism and decision making process enough, and social exclusion can be very strong. Due to lack of interest from local authorities to solve the problems of youth, these problems are often pile up and the consequences for young people are very serious. Young people are responsible for initiatives and solving their problems. This training will provide young people with opportunities to learn about ways of organizing and running campaigns lifting activism and inclusion. These campaigns are primarily addressed to young people, but to local residents, organizations and institutions, too.

4.	522067-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	16.881,50	The Youth Dialogue Programme Mr Vanja Milanovic	Animate Your Soul	This project was created as a need of different youth organization across Europe based on the lack of educational opportunities for youth workers that can enable them to bring the global dimension to the youth work. Global Challenges and social problems (global interdependencies, MDG-s, environmental issues, climate change, social and global injustice, social exclusion, intercultural dialogue and intolerance) are reflected equally all around in Europe, affecting specially the young people which often remind behind because of social exclusion and this represent an actual concern. This project will offer the opportunity for youth workers and leaders to explore deeper global topics and social exclusion as well to bring these important dimensions in their work and act towards it. The project has a strong dimension for exploring topics and realities in Europe (and around the world) as well a strong component in developing skills for youth workers in street animation and campaigning techniques (street theatre, flash mobs, clowning, juggling, face painting, balloon modulation, etc.) These methods can reach any groups in the community, are attractive and proved to be extremely effective in sending across various messages (for informing or creating awareness) and that can be directed for global education aims and reach social excluded young people as well as other actors and stakeholders from local community. The project was developed as mutual effort from all 10promoters(5 from Program Countries: Romania, Italy, Spain, Hungary, Turkey and 5 from Partners: Serbia(host),Macedonia, Albania, Kosovo and Montenegro, to have a well balanced multiplying effect) are involved, with 24 participants as direct beneficiaries.TC activity will take place in Serbia for a duration of 9days and will be focused on non-formal education and experiential learning , trainers team having extensive experience working in Global Education and Street Campaigning using participatory, practical and active methods.
5.	522154-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1YE	3	2011	20.600,00	Kikinda youth initiative Ms Milica Lazovic	ActREACT	The idea of this multilateral Youth exchange planned for 12 working days that includes EU countries and neighbouring partner countries from Western Balkans (SEE) is to promote voluntarism of young people and volunteering in the area of social work with the focus on the nonviolent behaviour through the method of forum theatre. The activities will take place in Kikinda, Serbia. During 12 days work, we will host 30 participants from 6 countries (Serbia, Macedonia, Croatia, Italy, Czech Republic and France). Will work on socially engaged performances based on non formal learning, active participation and team work. These are basis which will help develop the quality of participant's involvement further in project. The participants will work on an engaged performance so they could develop the main method "learning by doing" and through this method they will exchange information, experience and knowledge. The main priority is promotion of voluntarism of young people based on the topic of non violence and how young people perceive this problem and the ways and solutions how their voluntary work can help in diminishing of it. The participants will be divided into 3 groups so they would gain good practice, approaches, methods and tools so they could develop voluntary work in their mother organizations.

10.	521975-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	16.948,00	"Educational centre" Leskovac Mr. Milos Stankovic	F(orum)IGHT THE(atre) DISCRIMINATION!	Training course "F(orum)IGHT THE(atre) DISCRIMINATION!" organized by Educational centre from Leskovac, as the hosting organization, in cooperation with Colectivo provincial de Lesbianas, Gays, Bisexuales y Transexuales de Granada – Granada, Spain; Association Migration Solidarité et Echanges pour le Développement – Strasbourg, France; Angeus Silesius House - Wroclaw, Poland; Hi neighbor - Banja Luka, Bosnia & Herzegovina and Centre for intercultural dialogue - Kumanovo, FYROM will be held from 6th to 16th August 2012 on Vlasina lake (Serbia). The main goal of the project is to contribute to the process of reduction of discriminative behaviour at European level through the use of the technique of the theatre of the oppressed – forum theatre. This entails greater respect of diversity, promotion of mutual understanding and tolerance, especially between youth, and as ultimate goal contribution to the process of creating inclusive society which provides equal opportunities for all. Training is designed to bring together 24 young people from 6 different countries who will at the beginning be introduced with all themes which can facilitate better understanding of the concept of discrimination, and later they will create scenes in which will be shown this negative social phenomenon. Process of work in forum theatre is going through following stages: introducing with methods and techniques of transferring knowledge using the theatre, creating the performance with forum theatre features and performing the plays. Workshops are designed on that way that they include games, exercises, techniques which are used in group work, psychodrama and techniques which are specially developed for the theatre of the oppressed. Participants of training course will also have opportunity to participate in "Travelling caravan of activism" which will visit 4 cities in Southern Serbia. Caravan is planned for 11th August, day before International day of youth.
11.	522139-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1YE	3	2011	15.840,00	Young Europeans of Serbia Mr Vuk Vujic	Europeans against discrimination!	The project "Europeans against discrimination!" is a youth exchange about dealing with violence against marginalized groups. The youth exchange will gather 36 young people from different countries in order to give them possibility for them to discuss and enable them to fight against violence that is being used on marginalized groups such as LGBT, ethnic minorities (Roma, immigrants), disabled persons and other marginalized groups. We want to raise our voice against violence and discrimination and xenophobia especially to vulnerable groups. Since Serbia is place where the use of violence is "normal" especially towards LGBT community, we want to show the world that we are willing to start from here and fight violence; we are ready to discuss problems of violence and show an example of its prevention and stopping. Our partner organisations are all working with young people and together through non-formal education will conclude to the world on how violence can be dealt with especially through education of young people.
12.	522055-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1YE	3	2011	24.706,00	Non-Governmental Organisation "The World of Words" Mrs Jelena Zlatkova	Give me 5 minutes of your time!	Activity dates:15-24/6/2012 Where:Vrnjacka banja/Serbia Partner countries: RS, MK, BA, AL, TR, PL, ES, IT, DE Host organization:NGO"THE WORLD OF WORDS" GIVE ME 5 MINUTES OF YOUR TIME is YE which participates 46 participants from 9 countries The problem of violence-encompassing anything from domestic abuse to violence defining relations between entire groups, communities and nations, stems largely from an ill-adopted gender- and sex pattern during the process of socialisation. It is at this point that a division occurs, separating „the strong" from „the weak", torturers from the tortured, „the superior" from „the inferior". Among those worst afflicted by this are girls, subject to all forms of gender stereotypes, prejudice and discrimination. Young people of adolescent age, inhibited by their bodily urges, their developing sexuality, and the rigid demands from within their surroundings, shape their personalities in such a way that a proneness to conflict, intolerance and misogyny become established forms of their everyday dealings. Hence, preventive action at this particular age proves conducive to mitigating tensions in interpersonal relations, to promoting tolerance and peace. The project is intended for informing young people in 9 countries on the subject of gender-based violence. The project aims at raising the awareness of gender-based violence and gender equality through informing and instructing with a view to eliminating any such violence. The project itself is meant to motivate young people into assuming an active role in bringing about changes in their own surroundings, and to inspire creative action so as to bring the issue of gender inequality to the attention of respective local communities. We are planning to gather together in one place, in Vrnjačka Banja, Serbia, young people from 9 countries in order to arrange for and stage a performance simulating all manner of gender-based violence, providing striking examples of gender inequality.
13.	521642-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1YE	3	2011	9.676,00	"ACTIVE" independent youth organization	Youth Creating their world	"Youth creating their world" exchange will consists of eight-day where 25 interested unemployed youth from Serbia, Hungary ,Macedonija, Slovenia and Romania with the aim of exchanging knowledge about traditional hand-craft work from different cultures and new alternative art forms for the development of young people's skills and knowledge, who are living in both urban and rural areas as way to self employ or get employed by using these newly learned skills.

						Mr Robert Mesaros		The venue place will be at Coka, Serbia. The objectives of project are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -broadening the cultural awareness among participants -learning and developing practical skills and knowledge about traditional and new age alternative art -creation of new art work products (combining traditional with new alternative art) -making local exhibition of created products -using IT and internet in disseminating and promoting their innovative art products - encourage entrepreneurship/ways to self employ - raising self confidence of unemployed youth - learning basic about leading small business All activities will be based on the principles of non-formal education, learning by doing and reflecting on participants' previous experiences we will provide a safe learning-space, where participants can creatively, freely, and open-mindedly share, discuss, comment and express through art in an intercultural setting. Artistic workshops will find their practical use in creating an opportunity for both urban end rural youth to employ themselves or get employed, to encourage entrepreneurship and initiative taking. They will also give bases for unemployed youth to raise the level of their self confidence that so often can be shaken by the fact that they are unemployed.
14.	522071-3.1-RS-2011-R3	522071-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3	2011	19.209,00	Balkan Initiative for Tolerance Ms Ivana Stanojev	Creative engagement - using city as an action tool	Youth projects should conquer public space and make out initiatives and demands more visible to common people. T.C. 3.1. CREATIVE ENGAGEMENT - using city as an action tool, encourages youth workers to use ART ENGAGED ACTIVISM as method that combines different innovative approaches to include general public into youth initiatives. Urban Interventions, Community Public Art and Site specific theatre are artistic methods that can easily connect community with certain social issues in creative and inclusive way. Our goal is to bring our enthusiasm on streets and communicate our idea with wider population! TC will be great opportunity for youth workers to get fresh ideas and obtain new skills that will help their initiatives spread in public. Youth projects are sometimes far from common people, seminars held behind closed doors, exchanges that involve only selected participants and they often do not include larger community. Creative engagement gives possibility to include people around, passengers on the street, youth from the neighbourhood. It explores creative ways to communicate through art, installations, street performances and graffiti with global population and to find solutions for social issues in joint activities. TC will gather 30 participants from Italy, Slovenia, UK, Romania, Montenegro, Croatia, Albania, Macedonia, France and Serbia to explore new possibilities for youth work. We will look at the history of these practices from across the world over the past 30 years, how they have evolved and how can we apply them in our strategies. All these art practices communicate with urban surrounding and citizens, using public space to question our everyday living, decisions we undertake in politics, towards global issues and social changes. TC will be organized in Belgrade in April, and it will combine workshops, lectures, visits to multimedia artists, learning by doing activities and public presentations and discussions.
15.	521693-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	19.455,00	Association "People's Parliament" Mr. Petar Djurovic	Inclusion of economically disadvantaged youngsters	The project benefits 30 economically disadvantaged youngsters facing social and economic exclusion. These young men and women with fewer opportunities don't usually participate in non-formal education events organized within the framework of the YiA Programme or in other non-formal education events, for that matter. Reasons are many, language barrier, lack of motivation and lack of compatible projects being the most dominant. However, on this occasion, young people with fewer opportunities from Serbia, Macedonia, Bosnia, Romania, Bulgaria and Greece will have an opportunity to participate in a 8-day long training that will be organized for their benefit in City of Leskovac, Serbia. Youngsters faced with social and economic exclusion aren't very motivated to volunteer as they, understandably perhaps, don't see any practical or logical reason for them becoming a volunteer. Volunteering, after all, isn't a paying job and, in their view, offers no real benefits to them. However, volunteering as a form of active engagement and as a tool for development of one's personal, social and professional competences certainly can benefit economically disadvantaged young men and women, too. Especially since activeness offered through volunteering programs tends to open a range of opportunities for a young person, stimulating his/hers active engagement in social and economic processes and greatly influencing his/hers employability. This is our opinion anyway, which is however based on 12 years long youth work experience. For these and several other reasons we will use this project to motivate youngsters faced with social and economic exclusion for volunteering and help them realize benefits volunteering can offer to them in terms of personal, social and professional advancement, among other things. This will be beneficial for advancement of their social and economic status, as well as it will bring benefits to communities in which project participants live.

16.	522105-3.1-RS-2011-R3	3.1TN	3	2011	13.434,00	Jump Mr Edo Sadiković	YiA in Sharp Action	"YiA in Sharp Action" will bring together 24 selected participants from six countries (Croatia, Romania, Italy, Albania, Turkey and Serbia) for 6 days training course in Prijepolje, Serbia, in order to exchange ideas and practices, as well as develop future projects together. The main objective of this Training Course is to provide participants with the competences required in order to make use of the opportunities offered by the YiA programme, and to realize such actions. Participants of the "YiA in Sharp Action" will take part in non-formal-education activities that will give them the theoretical background on the programme; they will be encouraged to share their experience and present their own best practices and examples of activities; and they will work in groups to establish new projects, with a focus to Youth Exchanges on the themes of Climate Change and Sustainable Development, in order to experience the practical aspects of project building in YiA. For this project, JUMP is presenting new method called Sharp Action which will be used to present whole YiA project application as easy and funny, so participants can get idea that project writing is easy-going game with great benefits. Idea of TC is that participants through Sharp Action method use all information they get and immediately put them into YiA application throughout various practical and motivational methods.
